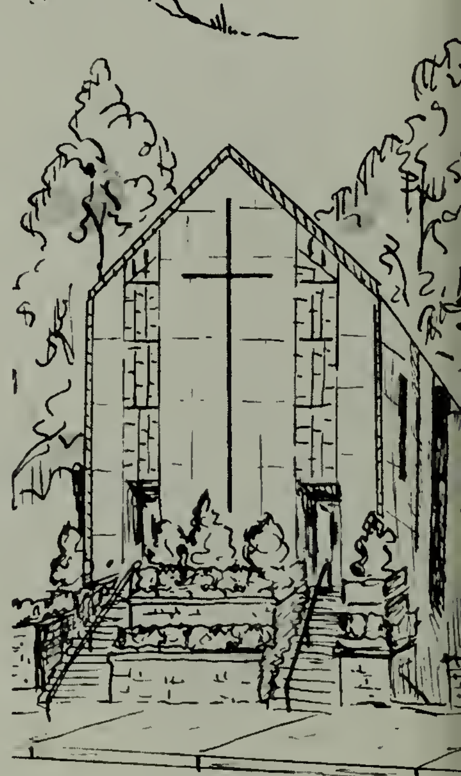
1840 WALTHAM HIGH SCHOOL 1902

Foreword



Our city has fostered our growth throughout the first years of our development. Through its religious, social, and educational institutions we have been enabled to enrich our lives and prepare a solid foundation for the future. Now as we stand on the threshold of graduation, we are ready to accept the responsibility of serving our God, our city, our commonwealth, and our nation.

Realizing this, the Class of 1962 in this Mirror has attempted to portray some of the aspects, both past and present, which have helped to make our city what it is today. It is our hope that we, in our turn, may contribute some little part toward preserving this great heritage.

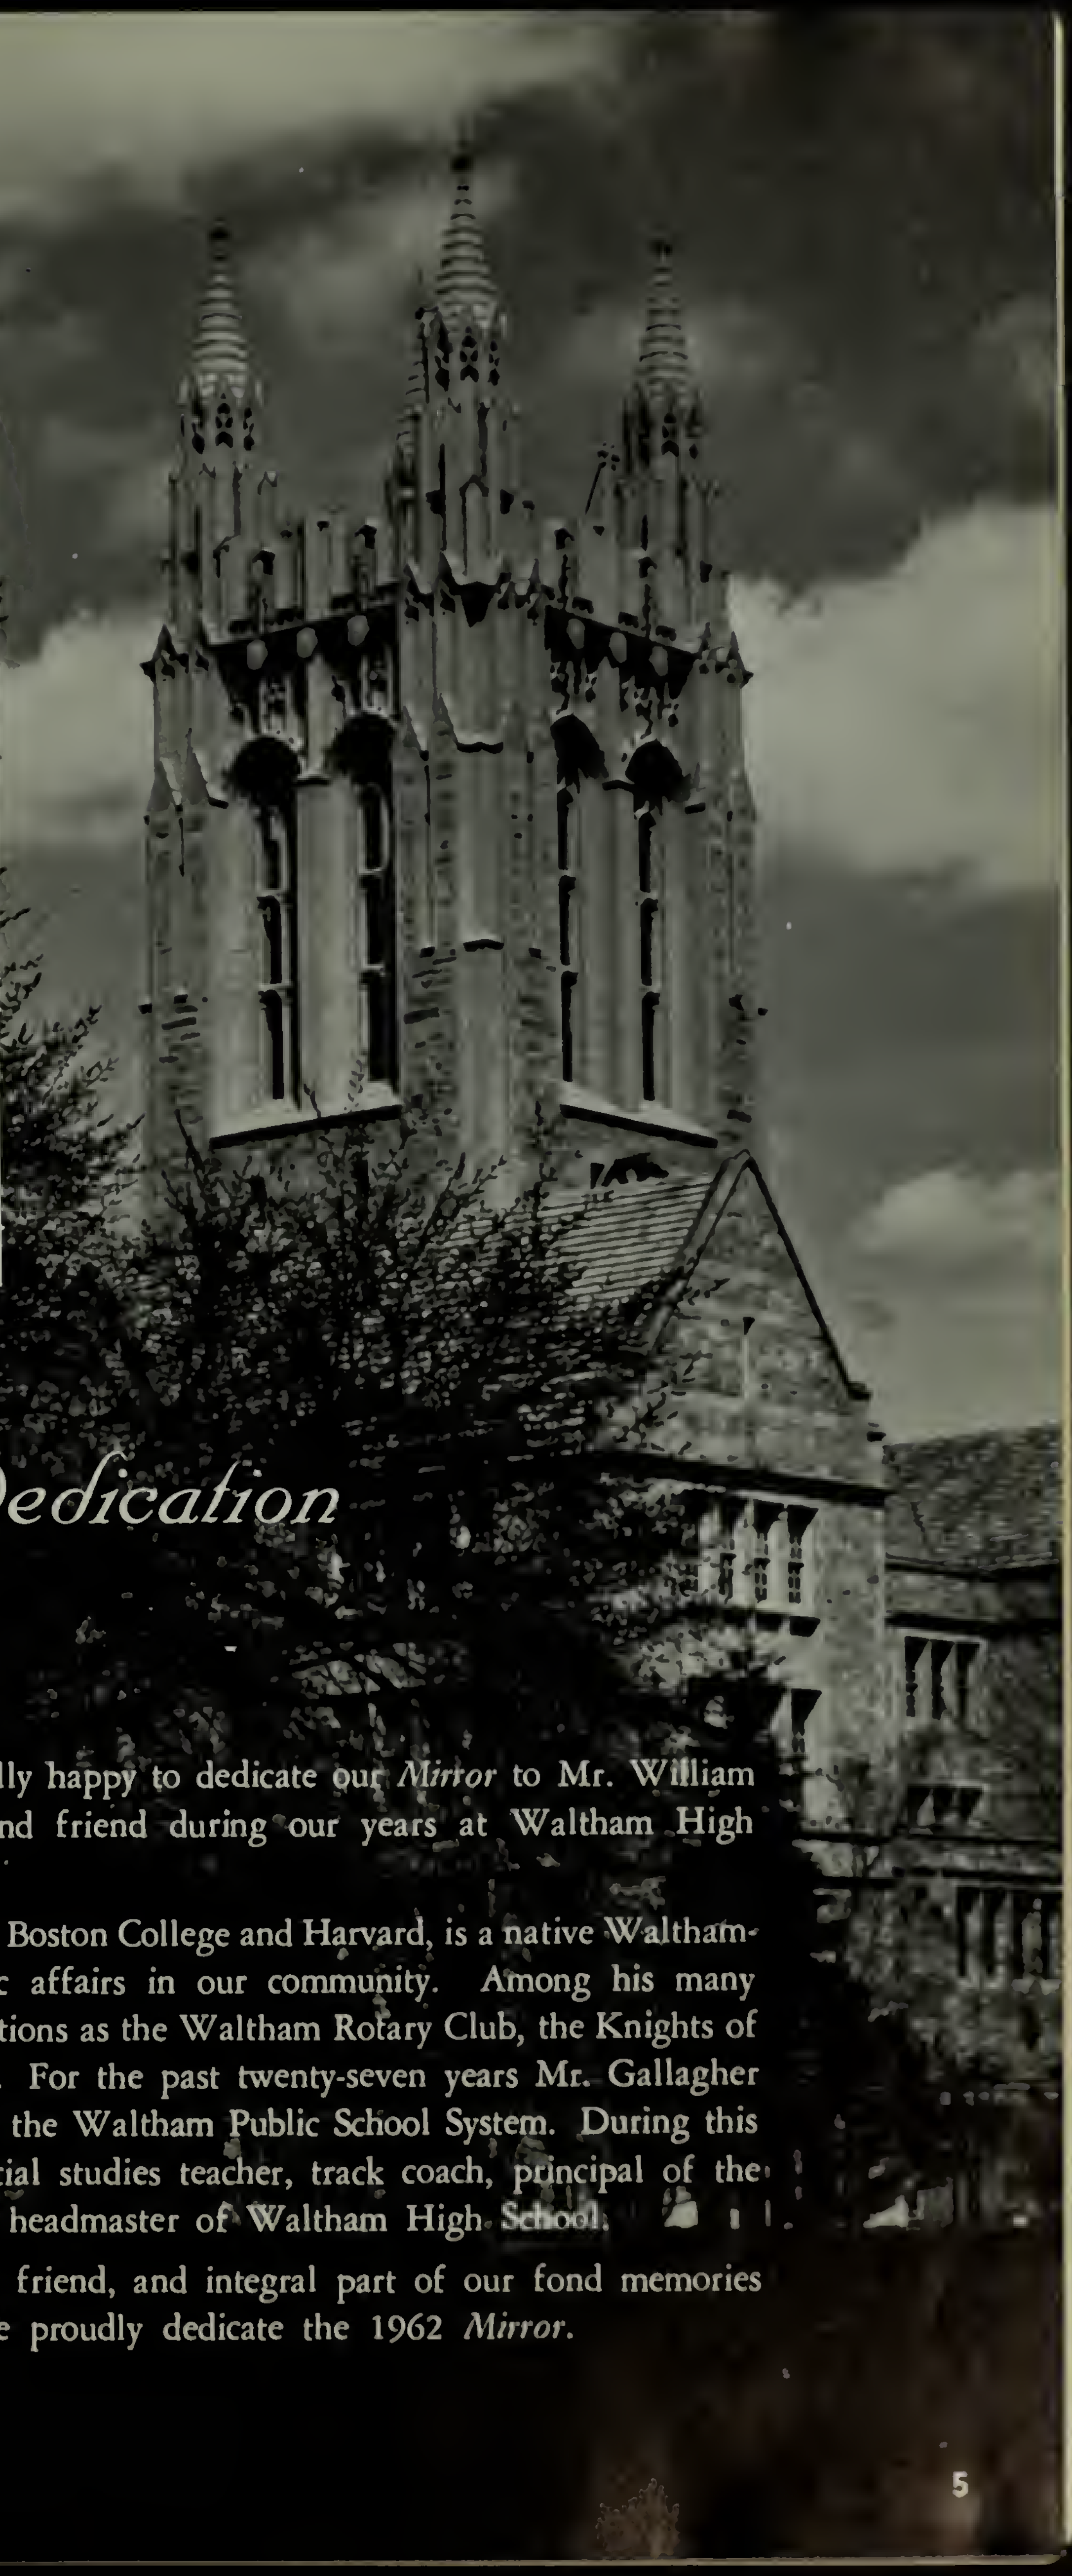
MR. WILLIAM J. GALLAGHER

Dedication



Gasson Hall
Boston College

The class of 1962 is especially happy to dedicate our Mirror to Mr. William Gallagher, our Headmaster and friend during our years at Waltham High School.

Mr. Gallagher, a graduate of Boston College and Harvard, is a native Walthamite and is very active in civic affairs in our community. Among his many civic interests are such organizations as the Waltham Rotary Club, the Knights of Columbus, and the Red Cross. For the past twenty-seven years Mr. Gallagher has been a devoted member of the Waltham Public School System. During this period he has served as a social studies teacher, track coach, principal of the North Junior High, and now headmaster of Waltham High School.

To Mr. Gallagher, advisor, friend, and integral part of our fond memories of Waltham High School, we proudly dedicate the 1962 Mirror.

HEADMASTER

To the graduates of 1962:

Many of us have been part of Waltham for a long time--others for a short time. Many of us will leave Waltham, others will stay.

All of us love Waltham in 1962 as the scene of many happy memories that will be constantly recalled in this Mirror which will reflect memory lane to us.

Facta non verba--Deeds not words is a grand motto. Great deeds will be performed by many of our group. Let us not forget the words from William Wordsworth: "The best portion of a good man's life is his little, nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and love."

Sincerely,

William J. Gallagher

LLOYD F. VANARSDALE
Director

To The Class of 1962:

I extend my very best wishes to all the members of this year's graduating class.

Our complex civilization has made the kind of education you have obtained in school especially valuable. Your education is a big asset in building a good future for yourself, for our country, and for mankind.

My sincere wish is that all of you will continue to seek more knowledge and skills.

My congratulations to the Class of 1962.

Sincerely,

Lloyd F. VanArsdale

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

MR. MRUGALA
MISS CUNNINGHAM
MR. PIKE
MISS NOLAN
MR. ELLIOT
MR. CHAPMAN,
Department Head

The newly enlarged Guidance Office and its faculty seek to meet the growing need for a sound, well-planned counseling program. Here students find a wealth of valuable and up-to-date publications as well as advice concerning high school, college, and their future careers.

The wise counseling of youth is our surest investment in the future.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

MISS WARREN
MISS SLATTERY
MRS. BROWN

MR. GARRAHAN
MISS TAYLOR

The aims of high school English courses are overwhelming in scope. The priceless ability of self-expression through written and oral means are fostered and developed as the greatest aim of this department.

The world belongs to the man who can express himself.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Language is the common bond of the world's peoples.

MISS EATON
MRS. KEENAN
MRS. JOHNSON
MRS. MacNEESE
MISS DUBOIS
MR. BENEDICT
MR. CLARK
MISS BETTS,
Department Head

MR. BELLIVEAU

The language department seeks to acquaint the students not merely with a country's language but also with its culture and its peoples. With the addition of the language lab three years ago, students have had increased opportunity to improve speaking techniques.

MR. LEVY
MR. RICHMAN

Today, in a world of constant strife and tension, an objective study of the past is our first step toward a safe and secure future. Thus history's lesson will ever be an invaluable guide in shaping our tomorrows.

SCHOLASTIC MAGAZINES

The aim of history is truth.

MATH DEPARTMENT

MISS HOGAN

MR. O'BRIEN
MISS POWERS
MR. CURRY
MR. PERKINS
MR. LYNCH
MR. MEADER
MR. REYNOLDS

Math, like science, trains the student to think and to draw conclusions through reasoning. Precise in nature, mathematics serves to reflect the ever-present order in nature as well as it serves to bring order into the lives of those who probe its facts.

Without mathematics there would be little but confusion.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

MISS HIRST
DR. KUBIN
MISS MURPHY
MRS. CASE
MR. AVERY
MR. PERKINS
MR. EAMES
MR. MORANG,
Department Head
MR. YETTEN

The chief aim of the Science Department is to encourage the use of experimentation, which leads to any significant discovery. In this age of missiles and rockets when scientific advancements become commonplace events, it would be well to remember that these discoveries did not just happen but grew slowly in man's mind—the most advanced of human laboratories.

Science is an antecedent of progress.

Business is the economic heartbeat of a nation.

MISS BALCH
MISS MacQUARRIE
MISS CUNNINGHAM
MISS HOGARTY
MR. HALL
MR. FLIGHT
MISS TAHANEY
MISS GROVER

The aim of the business department is to place its students in well-suited and profitable positions after graduation if further training is not sought. Throughout the student's high school career the Business Department also aids him in finding part-time employment which will prove valuable experience in the future.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

MR. WORONICZ
MISS FROST
MISS CHILDS
MR. KROL

The gym program is concentrated upon the increasing need for physical fitness in youth. The ancient Greeks, a model example of a physically sound people, summed up the need for physical fitness when they said, "A sound mind in a sound body." Our new boys' gym was completed this year, a valuable and needed addition to our gym program.

"It's not whether you win or lose; it's how you play the game."

The National Honor Society is a nation-wide organization composed of juniors and seniors in high school who have displayed the Society's four characteristics: character, scholarship, leadership, and service. These students, besides meeting a certain high academic standard, must have a well-rounded program of activities and in-school or community services before being considered as candidates for the Society. This final list of students is then submitted to the entire faculty for comment or approval. Those students who are then approved by the faculty are inducted into the Society.

With the aid and counseling of Mr. Husson, its faculty supervisor, the Society performs various school services such as ushering throughout the school year, and strives to maintain the high ideals of conduct and scholarship it has placed before its members.

CLASS POEM

"TO BEAR THE TORCH"

In chains man languished, longing to breathe free.
Till—with might of Bunyan—
He burst his shackles.
A deafening clang
The bonds struck rock.
A spark . . .
A light . . .
A flame . . .
The glow of Freedom's face!
The blood and toil of a nation have fed the flame;
Sheltered it from winds of wanton war.
Resplendent it has stood
A beacon to all the world.
The sightless see the light of hope.
The lost are found.
The small are great.
Faces lift from despair.
Men walk with straight backs.
The crushing hand of iron sets free the dove.
But see how the billows of smoky death roll 'round
The hungry flame
To take away its breath.
'Tis now our task to tend the flame.
To never let it die.
Raise up the torch, take on the burden,
O sons and daughters of Washington and Lincoln
Of Yorktown and Gettysburg,
And proudly bear with aching, straining arm
The golden lamp that from the deepest pits of earthly hell
Men may see and say,
"I'm free."

JEANETTE ABBONDANZIO
36 Woodland Road
Business

"How happily she lives, how well beloved."

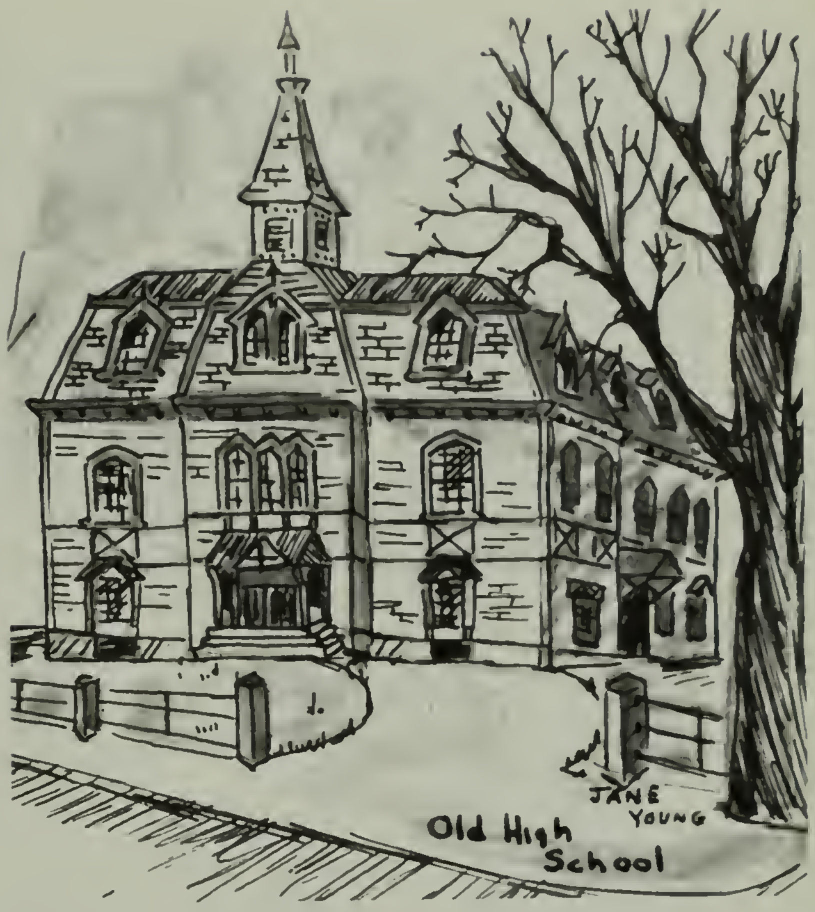
As she sits under the hair-dryer, Jean thinks of many things. She thinks about her activities in C.Y.A. and W.HS.'s activity period. She also plans for the day when she herself will operate a hair-dryer. At W.H.S. Jean likes to "operate" a typewriter or a bowling ball. Mansfield Hairdressing School will make black-haired, brown-eyed Jeanette an expert on coiffure.

Activities: Pep Squad 4; Girls' Sports 4; Cafeteria Squad 4.

THOMAS AFFLECK
13 Alder Street
College II

Nothing without great effort.

This South Junior alumnus could spend all day studying trig, which will help him in his future work, electronics. Brown-eyed Tom can be found reading or attending C.Y.O. meetings with John and Steve. Good luck in the future.



Standing on the corner of Church and School Streets, the first Senior High School was in use from 1849 to 1903.

RICHARD AHLMAN

Let us then be merry while we are young.

"Rocky," as he is best known to his friends, John and Jackie, hopes to enter the armed services after graduation. Best of luck, Rocky!

Activities: Homeroom Representative 3, 4; Newspaper Staff 4.

DORA ALAGNA
47 Myrtle Street
Business

"A true friend is a friend forever."

"Let's have some pizza," cries Dora . . . loves to help Nino and Janice make lasagna . . . this brown eyed miss likes the friendly teachers at W.H.S. . . . future includes a secretarial job.

Activities: Mirror Representative 4; Pep Squad 4.

ROBERT ALLENBERG
4 Arcadia Avenue
Business

"In sports this boy is a whiz,
And he's really tops with all the kids."

"Big Bob" is well known to W.H.S. football fans. This blond, blue-eyed senior is the outdoor type; he enjoys hunting and fishing with Art, Al, and Cliff. Popular Bob will never forget his English classes with Miss Devane and intends to follow his W.H.S. education with attendance at college or a business school. Good luck, Bob.

Activities: Football 2, 3, 4, Hockey 2; Talent Show 4.

CARLEEN ANDERSON
208 South Street
College II

"Ready in heart and ready in hand."

Blue-eyed Carleen will make an excellent nurse. This friendly girl came to W.H.S. from North Junior. When not talking on the phone to Gee or Gerry, Carleen keeps herself occupied at C.Y.A., at football games, in Mr. Meader's Algebra class, and eating.

Activities. Talent Show 3, 4, Pep Squad 3, 4; Maroon Squad 4, Cafeteria Squad 4.

DAVID ANDERSON
44 Beaver Street
College II
"Not afraid of work, a good friend to all."

Busy David is an active member of DeMolay, the Boys' Club, and his church youth group. This blue-eyed North-Juniorite enjoys swimming with his friends, Jim and Tom. "Dave" hopes to major in restaurant and hotel management at the University of Mass. Best of luck, David.

Activities: Latin Club 2; German Club 2; Rifle Club 2, 3; French Club 4.

ROBERT ANDERSON
66 Circle Drive
College II
Vigilance, action, wise counsel-these insure success.

Blue-eyed "Hans" came to W.H.S. from Lexington Street Junior High. "Hans" can be seen in his "52" Ford with Ron and Charlie. Mr. Lynch and hamburgers rate tops with this future Navy recruit. Happy sailing, "Hans"!

"A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance."

Sorority meetings and the C.Y.O. bowling league strike a key note with this typist. Active Judie travels the W.H.S. corridors with Lynda and Sandy and plans to make her next stop at the John Robert Powers School. Best of luck to this blue-eyed dancer and skater!

Activities: Homeroom Representative 3; Talent Show 3; Red Cross Representative 2, 4; Prom Committee 3, 4; Clerical Staff 4; Maroon Squad 4.

ERNEST ANSARA
142 Raverswood Road
Honors
"Friendship leads to confidence, And confidence leads to success."

As much as Ernie loves both, he certainly never would tolerate a baseball in his butterscotch sundae. However, a discussion of Miss Hale's democracy class does not detract from the flavor of a sundae for this hazel-eyed third baseman. We are sure he regrets the fact that sundaes aren't allowed in the courtroom, but that restriction won't keep Ernie away from B.C. and a career as a lawyer. Friends, Pat and Steve, wish Ernie the best of luck in every case.

Activities: Baseball 2, 3, 4; Class Officer 3; Debating Club 3; Crimson Key 3, 4; Latin Club 2; A.V. Staff 2, 3, 4; Dramatics Club 3.

JOAN APOLLONIO
364 Forest Street
Business
"Give to the world thy gentle ways."

Cheerful "Joanie" is a busy member of her C.Y.O. and senior sorority . . . most often seen with Mal and Evelyn . . . brown eyes light up at the thought of dancing or of eating pizza . . . will long remember the many friends she made at W.H.S. . . . dreams of attending secretarial school after graduation.

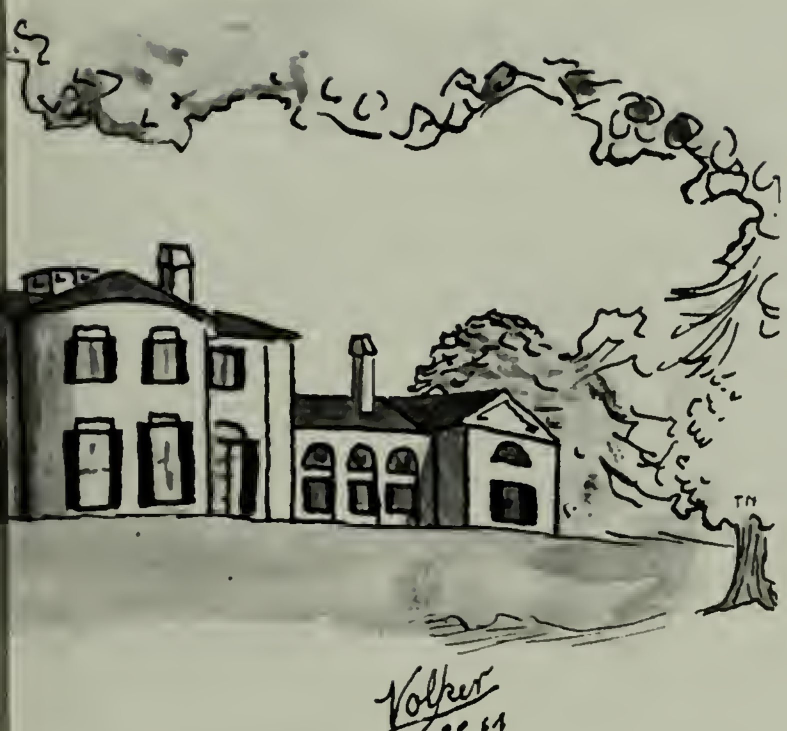
"It's nice to get up in the morning, But it's nicer to stay in bed."

"Swifly" is a former Juniorite . . . enjoys the stock car races with friends, Dave and "Horse." When not at the track he can be found devouring steak or dating his favorite girl . . . will down the Navy Blue after graduation.



t one time contained forty beautiful acres.

CHERYL AUCOIN
180 Robbins Street
Business
"Smile and the world smiles with you."

Brown-eyed "Chez" enjoys collecting records and attending T.C.F. Club with Judy, Joan, and Ellie. This South Juniorite hopes to be a medical secretary. Best of luck, Cheryl.

Activities: Red Cross Representative 2; Mirror Subscription Staff 2; Pep Squad 2, 3, 4; Talent Show 4; Girls' Sports 2, 3; Mr. Husson's Staff 4.

RICHARD AUCOIN
22F Hansen Road
Vocational
"Carefree with never a dull moment."

"Tweety" enjoys sipping floats or camping with friends, Al, Jim, and Rits. Mr. Quinn's English class rates an "A" with this ex-Lexington Street Juniorite. Tweety says, "duty calls;" so after graduation it's off to the Navy before pursuing a career in drafting Good luck.

Activities: Cross Country 4; Baseball Team 3; Vocational Views 4.

RICHARD BABINEAU
54 Orange Street
Vocational
"There is always a twinkle of merriment and mischief in his eyes."

"Babineau's Auto Body Shop" is a sign friendly "Dick" hopes to see in his future. Dick loves to fool around with John and Joe either with cars or golf clubs. We see a successful future ahead for this amiable boy.

WILLIAM BAKER
47 Grant Street
Lexington
Vocational
"The end crowns the work."

"Billy" hails from Lexington High school . . . enjoys lunch periods, especially the pizza, at W.H.S. . . . likes to discuss cars with Al, Tom, and Pete . . . hopes to join the Air Force after graduation.

JOYCE BANNISTER
149 Seminole Avenue
College II
"Sweet as a primrose."

Vivacious Joyce thinks the new wing is simply great . . . this pretty senior will be off to college in the fall. Best of luck, Joyce.

Activities: Mirror Literary Staff 4, Homeroom Representative 4; Talent Show 2, 3, 4; Mirror Representative 2; Mirror Business Staff 2; Junior Prom Committee 3.

ALFRED BARBER

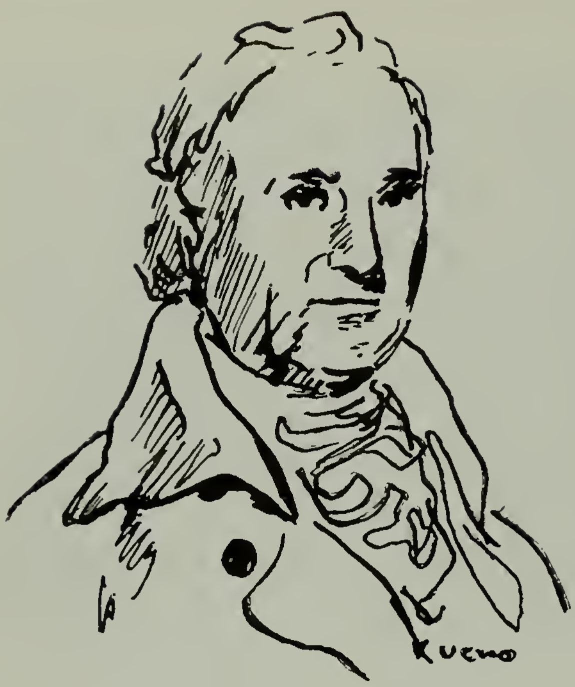
"Fortune favors the brave."

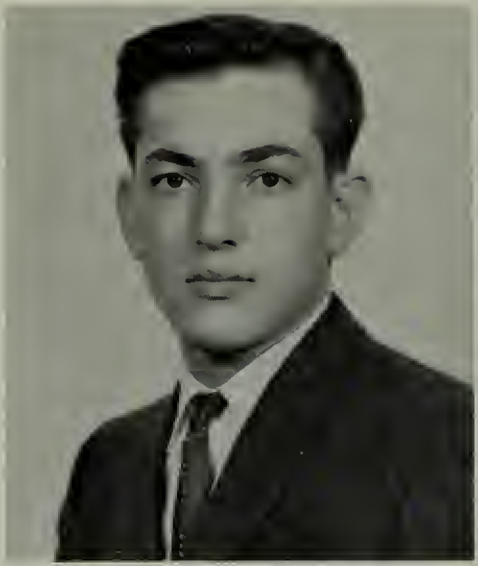
Ambitious "Al", a sports enthusiast, is a member of several W.H.S. sports teams . . . looks forward to trig classes with Nick and Jim . . . handles the funds of St. Mary's C.Y.A. After graduation Al hopes to attend St. Michael's College.

Activities Golf Team 3, 4, Track Team 3, 4; Cross-country 4; German Club 2, 3, Math Club 4, Football 3.

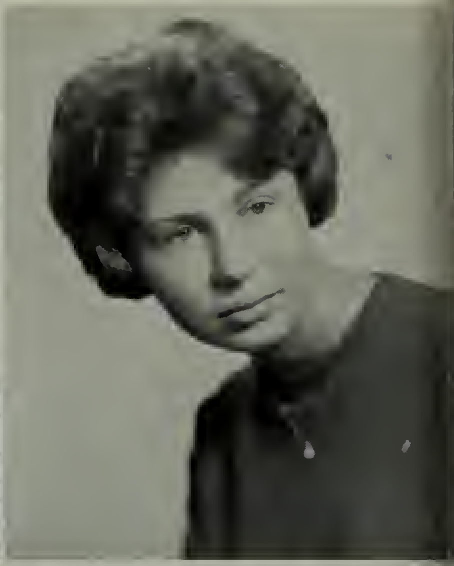


Gov. Christopher Gore

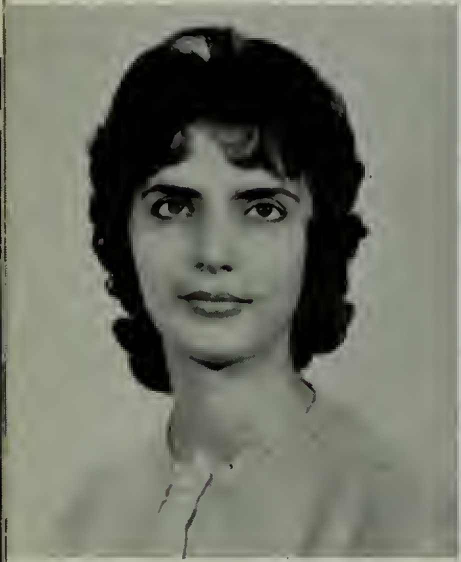
Governor Christopher Gore was a distinguished citizen of Waltham who became governor of Massachusetts in 1809.



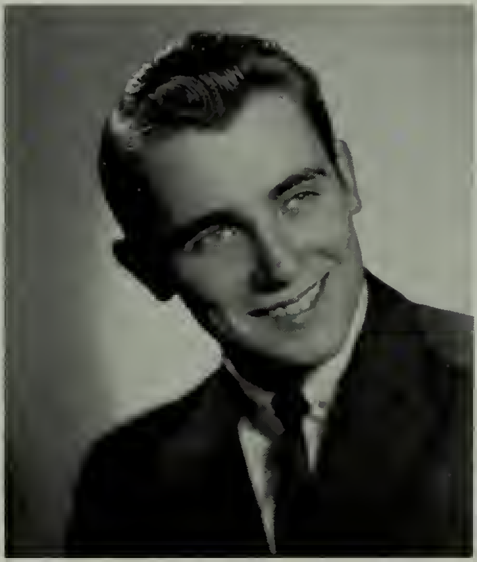
JOHN BARCA
110 Alder Street
Vocational
"Things are gay when he's around."
This former South Juniorite enjoys shop classes at the Vocational High. John can be found fixing cars or eating roast beef with Bob, Dick, and Pete. Best of luck in the future, John.



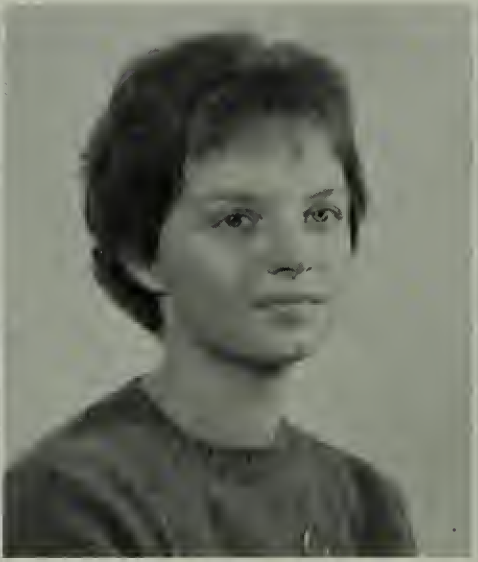
GERALDINE BARI
35 Alber Street
Business
"How constant the smile in her deep brown eyes."
"Geri" is an active and versatile member of the class of '62 . . . likes her many friends . . . enjoys all sorts of "gooey-good" foods. Bowling, swimming, and attending football games rate high with this dynamic senior. Best of everything, Geri!
Activities: Cafeteria Squad 3, 4; Homeroom Representative 3; Pep Squad 2, 3; Girls' Sports 4; Red Cross Representative 2.



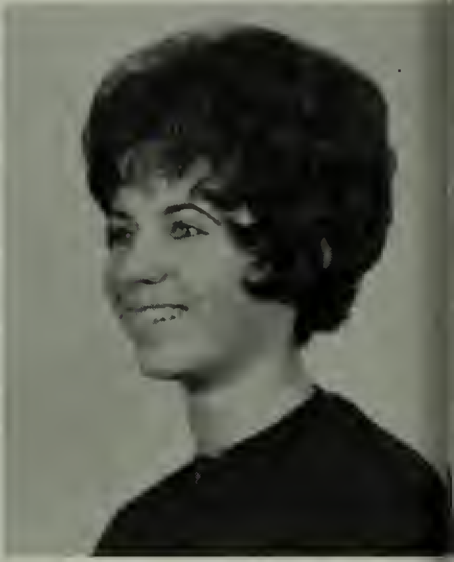
THERESA BARILONE
88 Woerd Avenue
Business
"This girl quietly winds her way, And does her duty day by day."
Brown-eyed Terry "digs" fried clams with catsup. Her friends, Anne, Joan, and Ellie, share her enjoyment of the new rotating schedule at Waltham High School.
Activities: Pep Squad 4; Newspaper Staff 4.



WALTER BARRICK
8 Brown Street
College II
"The will to do."
Green-eyed "Wally" likes to spend his spare time bowling or playing baseball with Rick and Donnie . . . hamburgers and girls at W.H.S. please this senior immensely . . . hopes to drive the road to Northeastern after graduation.
Activities: Student Council 4.



JANICE BAUMANN
22 Brightwood Road
Business
"She spoke few words, but very sweetly."
Janice has plans to become an operator of an International "Baumann" Machine; when not attending typing class at W.H.S. she likes to operate an International "Bowling" Machine. Saturdays are strictly for cheering the football team with Jeanette and Marilyn. Let's all wish this W.H.S. girl and C.Y.O. delegate the best of luck with her I.B.M.
Activities: Pep Squad 2, 3; Talent Show 3; Guidance Staff 4; Girls' Sports 4.

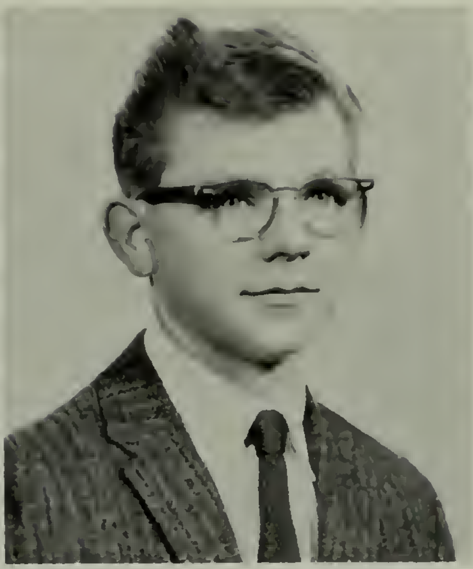


MARY BEAUDETTE
186 Warren Street
Business
"A gleam of mischief in her eye; She startles us with gay surmise."
Hazel-eyed Mary is a member of the C.Y.O. . . . friends, Jeannette and Nancy will agree she enjoys fried clams and pizza . . . favors lunch and studies in S-203 at W.H.S. . . . plans to attend business school after graduation. All the best, Mary.

SUSAN BECK
44 Washington Street
College II

"Eyes of blue, a smile so gay, Will take this lassie a long way."

"Sue," a future model, comes to us from New Mexico. At W.H.S. she enjoys physical science with Mr. Perkins and English with Mrs. Brown. Pam and Pat say that she keeps in shape by swimming and eating Italian food, in moderation, of course. After modeling school the future looks fashionable for pretty Sue.



CARLTON BELODEAU
1273 Main Street
Vocational

"Obliging and good-natured."

"Apples," as his friends, Russ and Wayne, call him, can be seen near machines anywhere . . . munching pizza and fried clams are his favorite pastimes . . . future plans include the Navy and work in a machine shop.

A little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest men.

Likable "Jim" is best remembered at W.H.S. for his portrayal of "Jay" in the senior play. When this blond, senior is not "hamming it up," he plays the uke, is active in DeMolay, and is president of his church fellowship. Al and Dave say that their talented friend loves trig classes. Keep blushing, Jimmy!

Activities: German Club 2, 3, 4, Vice-President 4; Senior Play 4; German Seminar 4; Latin Club 2; Rifle Club 2.

DORIS BENSON
29 Church Street
Business

Not bold, not shy, not tall, but a happy mingling of them all.

"Let's do the twist," cries Doris. Blue-eyed "Dodo" loves skating with Harriet and Jeanne. She is one of the top members of the girls' bowling team. We know you'll twist into a happy future, Doris.

Activities: Talent Show 4; Girls' Sports 2, 3; Business Staff 3, 4.

PAUL BENSON
320 Florence Road
Technical

I find that nonsense at times is singularly refreshing.

Energetic "Bing" came to W.H.S. via North Junior . . . active in both school and community functions . . . enjoys music and radio communications best of all . . . plans to attend Northeastern University . . . friends, "Yams" and Carl, know he'll be successful as a civil engineer.

Activities: Band 2, 3, 4; German Club 2, 3, 4; Ornics Club 2, 3, 4; Audio-Visual Staff 2, 3, 4; Chess Club 3, 4; Science Seminar 2, 3, 4; Latin Club 2, Orchestra 2, 3; Weather Club 3, 4; Junior Classical League 2.

JOSEPH BERGANTINO
300 River Street
College II

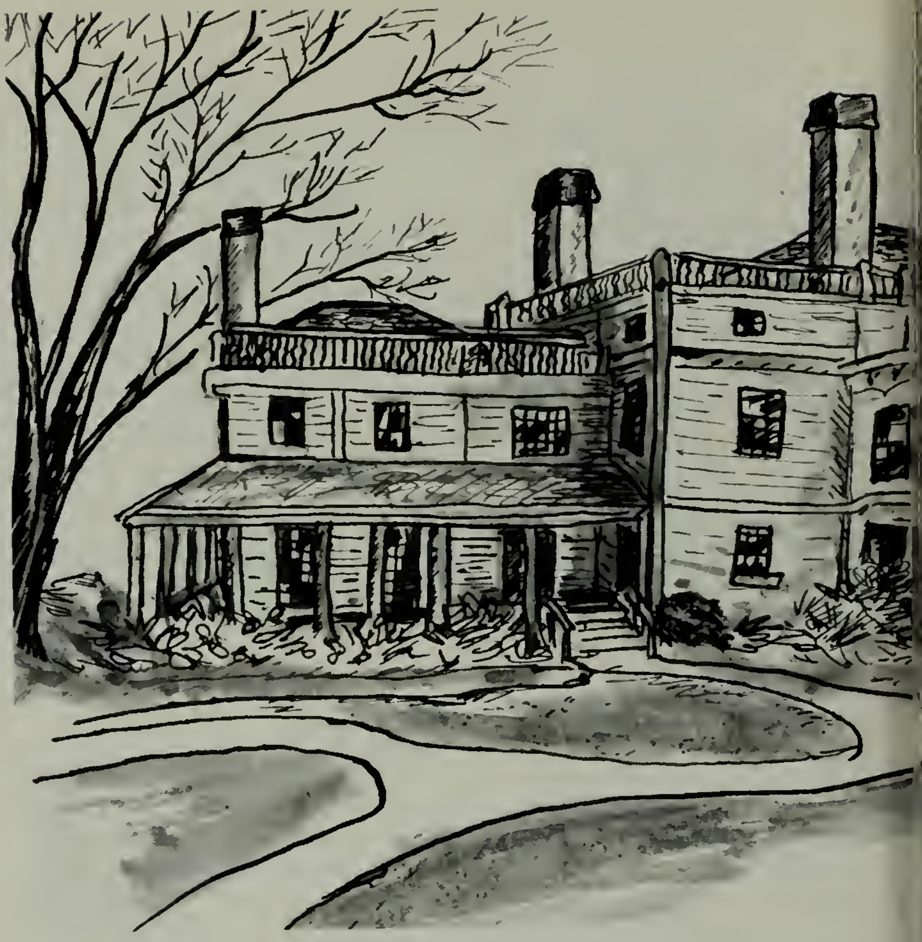
The world belongs to the enthusiast who keeps cool.

This lasagna-lover, who comes from South Junior, hopes to become a chemical technician. "Joe" can be seen bowling with Bob and Joe when he's not attending C.Y.O. and Sons of Italy meetings. Mrs. Carney's democracy classes score a big hit with Joe. Lots of luck, Joe.

Activities: Latin Club 2, Homeroom Representative 2; Talent Show 4.

JOHN BERGSTROM
89 Farnum Road
College II
"He may have a message for the world."
Blue-eyed "Bergy" came to W.H.S. from North Junior High . . . water-skiing, swimming, and fishing really rate with this popular lad . . . a career in teaching beckons in the future . . . the best of everything to a wonderful senior.
Activities: Future Teachers' of America 3, 4, President 4.

CHARLES BERRY
21 Dartmouth Street
Vocational
"A likable young man who's bound to accomplish a great deal."
"Dusty," a former North Junior High and South Junior High student, favors weight lifting in his spare time. Friends, Tom, Jim, and John, know that this DeMolay member really appreciates the facilities at Vocational High. Good luck to a future electronics technician.
Activities: Youth Advisory Committee 4.



Built before 1798, the Lyman mansion

FAYTH BISHOP
770 Lexington Street
College II
"She has heart to be gay."
If you have ever gone to a Waltham High football game, you must have seen "Faythie" strutting her stuff and twirling her baton at the head of the Senior Band. When not in action herself at the games, Fayth is an enthusiastic rooter with friends, Joyce and Chene. She manipulates a tasty "sub" with the same alacrity she demonstrates with her baton.
Activities: Pep Squad 2; Talent Show 3, 4; Majorette 2, 3, 4; Head Drum Majorette 4.

DIANE BISSON
9 Coolidge Avenue
College II
"She of the dimples."
Blue-eyed "Dimples" enjoys dancing . . . can be found at C.Y.O. or practicing a new dance step with Carol, Barbara, Lorraine, and Sally . . . this former Lexington Street Juniorite would like to teach dancing in the future.
Activities: Pep Squad 4.

JOSEPH BISSON
460 Dutton Road
Sudbury
Vocational
"Quiet and shy but a regular guy."
Car enthusiasts become immediate friends of amiable "Joey." Norm, Dick, and Bob tell us that "Joey" rates sirloin steak as his favorite food. He plans to make use of his knowledge of welding in future years.

KAREN BLOMEN
53 Howard Street
College I
"Come, sing now, sing; for I know you sing well."

YOUTH SPEAKS

1962

"Ours is not an era of common men or mediocre objectives. Today the world has need of the uncommon man, the man who will dare to set his goals always just beyond his grasp. We must be such men, for we are tomorrow's leaders; we are the brightest hope of a troubled world in search of peace."

SUSAN CROSS

"Leadership of the right kind is gravely needed in the world today . . . If one is to be a true leader, he must have an upright character and be willing to serve others, as well as to be served by his followers. Leadership must be unselfish. If a person desires leadership only because of such motives as glory and popularity, without being genuinely interested in those whom he would guide, he will certainly be a failure. A leader must think and act for others and do what he feels is best, regardless of public opinion."

JOANNA CAHILL

"The future of the world rests within the minds of youth, and what we do, or don't do, in regard to developing the potential of young Americans will determine the fate of our country . . . An informed citizenry is the backbone of our nation, for the citizen who lacks knowledge and understanding of the times in which he lives cannot be a 'good citizen'."

ROSE GENOVA

"With lack of purpose comes stagnation, and with lack of mental energy and originality comes deterioration. We must meet the problems of space and of communism. Are we meeting them with our full force? We are not if we are letting others think and work for us while we become the slaves of mechanization. Machines should supplement human physical and mental activity, not eliminate it . . . Mechanization should make life more challenging and rewarding, not easier."

RICHARD MESERVE

"Because much has been given us—much is expected of us . . . Strive to serve your generation well, for it has been said, 'He who would be greatest among you must be the servant of all.' . . . The simple everyday courtesies that each of us can extend to each other, the faculty, our friends, and our parents, such as kindness to our fellow-students, cooperation and tact in the classroom, attentiveness to our elders—form a life pattern which we will carry beyond the classroom into experiences and situations to be encountered in the future."

BETH GALLAGHER

"If every man of a ship's crew does his ultimate best at whatever is his assigned or chosen task, that ship can win any race. Our ship of state is in a race now—a close race—with the vessel that bears the Russian emblem, and it is our duty as the crew of our nation-ship to make sure that each one of us contributes his best to the task; that each one of us becomes increasingly aware of both his personal and his national duty. We must become the best businessmen, the best scientists, the best educators, the best artists, the best athletes, the best craftsmen, and, above all, the best citizens—then, and only then, will we indeed be worthy of our international trust."

JOHN McDONALD

Class

Life is a journey that leads us down the road of time. Today one small but important segment of that journey is drawing to a close. As we turn and look back on the path we have traveled these last three years, we see a series of milestones which have marked our high school life.

As we took our first halting steps down the narrow pathway that was to grow ever wider through the next three years, we elected as our Sophomore Class officers Ronald Lopez, president; Anne Fucci, vice-president; Elsa Durkee, secretary; and Raymond Dougan, treasurer. With pride, we acknowledged the advent of Waltham High's first Honors Course. Other distinctions which came to the Class of 1962 were Jeremy Hagger's election as treasurer of the Junior Classical League of Massachusetts; Richard Meserve's Honorable Mention for Region I in the Science Achievement Awards for the 1960 Student Program of the Future Scientists of America; and, finally, the selection of Susan Cross and Deborah Carr as Red Cross Representatives to be sent for a week of training to Hood College in Maryland.

Just around the corner from the Sophomore year lay the Junior year with its expanding horizons, both socially and scholastically. We commenced this important year by electing as class officers Joanne Straggas, president; Anne Fucci, vice-president; Elsa Durkee, secretary; and Ernest Ansara, treasurer. In the annual Kingsbury Temperance Fund essay contest Priscilla Moore won the grand city-wide prize; James Vanderwyck, first prize in Waltham High; Joanna Cahill and Jeremy Haggar, second prizes; Karen Blomen and Richard Meserve, third prizes; Gloria Gosselin and Suellen Childs fourth prizes; John Morrisson and Robert Fiorelli, fifth prizes; and Marsha Gardner and John McDonald, sixth prizes. Other writers who added to the glory of the class were Sally Madden for her poem Snowflake Soliloquy, published in the National Anthology of High School Poetry, and the two United States History Honors Course classes who won a George Washington Honor Medal for their history of Waltham churches. Honors in the scientific field helped our class reach another milestone on the road to progress. Sally Madden and Robert Yamartino were selected to participate in the fourth annual Summer Science Program at Thayer Academy in Braintree while Janet Swift was invited to take part in the summer science program in biology at Brandeis University.

Stepping off the road for one evening, we entered the realm of Shangri-La, the scene of our Junior Prom.

Representing Waltham High at Girls' State was Rose Genova, and at Boys' State, Glenn Moulton.

At graduation Richard Meserve received the Phi Beta Kappa Book Award, John Crane the Harvard Book Award, and Jeremy Hagger the History Book Award.

Thus in glory ended that segment of the road that we all traveled in our Junior year.

As we took up the journey again as seniors, we entered the new academic and science wing of Waltham High School. Much as we will remember the beautiful new cafeteria, the wonderful modern gym, and the labs, I am sure we will remember more vividly the bridge in its unfinished state (especially noticeable when wet), the long period of half days, and the W-105 Club! At this time also the Waltham Vocational High School welcomed a new principal, Mr. Lloyd VanArsdale.

We elected as Senior Class officers Robert Pantanella, president; Brian Robicheau, vice-president; June Mosca, secretary; and Jacquelyn Skane, treasurer. To guide the Student Council we elected Peter Curry, president; Thomas Gray, boys' vice-president; Anne Fucci, girls' vice-president; Elsa Durkee, secretary; and Beth Perna, treasurer.

Raymond Dougan and Barbara Donahue were selected as co-editors of The Mirror. This Week at Waltham High was edited by Suellen Childs and John McDonald, with Grover Kinsman, Laurence Sicotte, and Thomas Mancuso as Vocational Editors.

Returning from a summer in Austria, our A.F.S. exchange student Richard Meserve greeted Mariella Mella from Italy, Henry Olela from Kenya, and Doris Rawak from Uruguay, who were to join us along the road to graduation.

In the realm of sports we were well represented on the gridiron by seniors Thomas Lucas, Peter Thiffault, Robert Crowley, Michael Hargreaves, Alan Grote, Robert Allenburg, Grover Kinsman, Robert Pantanella, and Ronald Lopez. Our conquering heroes were inspired by these cheerleaders: Captains Sally McCullough and Sally

History

Madden, and Mary Dawson, Nancy Chapdelaine, Geraldine Fahey, Geraldine Stankard, and Denise Fournier.

Chosen to represent Waltham High at the Woman's Club were Joanne MacClary, Elizabeth Perna, Maxine Weiner, and Susan Sinclair. Our D.A.R. Representative was Susan Cross.

Showing their theatrical versatility were James Belyea, Judy Carey, Vanna Stenquist, Rose Genova, Gilbert Scott, Susan Piper, Joseph McMenimen, John McDonald, Arthur Shriberg, Steven Brinn, Neal Poole, Deborah Schofield, Marion Frechette, Linda LeBlanc, Elsa Durkee, Sally McCullough, and Mary Dawson, who took part in the Senior Class Play, entitled Come Over To My House. which was directed by Thomas Eastler.

Our queenly contestants in the March of Dimes contest were Mary Dawson and June Ornstedt.

More honors were reaped when Sally Madden became a finalist in the Westinghouse Science Talent Search and Rose Genova in the National Merit Scholarship competition. At the same time Thomas Mancuso and Laurence Sicotte from the Vocational High School were awarded a certificate from the Graphic Art Institute of New England for their excellence in printing.

Our basketball team, led by Captain Glenn Moulton, included Richard Meserve, Dennis Larson, Charles Grinrod, and Edward Burns.

With hockey cheerleaders Judi Glossa and Joanna Cahill, co-captains, and Maureen Fahey, Janet Chase, and Debbie Carr to inspire them, the hockey team, which included seniors Victor Doucette, captain; Stephen Brinn; David Littlefield; Barry Foster; Robert Allenburg; Robert Cincotta; David Magner; and Alan McCarthy, played many close games at the Arena. The tie with Arlington and victories over Medford and Rindge were especially rewarding.

While we were engaged in athletic pursuits, twenty-two of our scholars received recognition by being elected to the National Honor Society.

The sport in which we most distinguished ourselves was track, which was started in our sophomore year. The following seniors were members of the fine teams: captain of cross-country John Crane, captain of indoor-outdoor track John Niose, and Robert Sevene, David Jackson, Richard Milligan, Frederick Viles, Richard Hartwell, John Crane, Charles Cotton, Robert Macfarlane, Michael Hargreaves, Alfred Cosgrove, Alfred Barber, Robert Pantanella, Thomas Eastler, Alan Umbrello, Grover Kinsman, Robert LeLieuvre, Thomas Lucas, and Richard Meserve.

As the road neared its end, we prepared for adult responsibilities by electing Elsa Durkee and Charles Berry as Student Government Day Representatives. Raymond Dougan, Priscilla Moore, Susan Cross, James Belyea, and and Jack Morway were chosen to be members of the Student Exchange Committee. The Vocational High School chose as its representatives Grover Kinsman, Laurence Sicotte, and Frank Carbone. In addition, members of the Senior Honors Democracy Class won the George Washington Medal from the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge.

In March of this year, Judy Annunciata, Joan Appollonio, Cheryl Aucoin, Joyce Engebretson, Marilyn Foster, Sandra LaFort, June Ornstedt, Joyce Setzer, Carol Nelson, Geraldine Fahey, Nancy Sawyer, Nancy Semenchuk, Mary Rasch, Cheryl White, Joyce Werren, Claire O'Neil, Joanne Mikula, and Beth Gallagher were given Gregg awards for their speed and excellence in shorthand.

As we neared the end of our journey, the Senior Class presented a tribute to America in the form of its Talent Show entitled "So Proudly We Hail," directed by Thomas Eastler.

Amidst the glow of Harbor Lights, we danced a glorious finale to our high school career at our Senior Prom.

And so, leaving the road that has given us both knowledge and pleasure, we go out to face the greater challenges that lie before us.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT—To the charming inhabitants of Walthamia, all graduates of the Class of 1962 at Waltham High in the United States of America, we are extremely grateful for their co-operation in the filming of this travelogue. We are especially indebted to the Emperor, who is the only elected monarch in the history of government, for his kindness and hospitality.

Far below our jet, in the midst of an aluminum foil sea, just visible between the cotton clouds, a dark mass of land appears—our first glimpse of the Isle of Walthamia. As we circle the island, a flash of reflected sunlight fastens our wandering eye on the Walthamia-Astoria, one of the many Anderson hotels.

"Give me your attention, please," says Captain Charles Smith over the airliner's speaker system. "We will be setting down in about five minutes. Your stewardesses, Miss Hoffses, Miss Kelley, and Miss Pasquali, will help you fasten your seatbealts. That is all."

The big jets hum confidently as we sweep in on the long white ribbon of runway. Immediately upon leaving the plane we are impressed by the ultra modern airport which is complete with a traveling lounge which whisks us to the main lobby of the sprawling airport. Amidst the hustle and bustle of the arrivals and departures we somehow check our return reservations with receptionist Rita Methot and cash in our temporary insurance with Beverly Cumbert. Next we are cordially greeted by Walthamia's Prime Minister Raymond Dougan and the welcoming committee: John Milmore, Ronald Rando, Thomas Giardina, and Patricia Wilson, and the Prime Minister's secretary, Beth Gallagher. After the welcoming ceremonies are finished, we take a limousine to the capitol. The route from the airport to the government plaza is over-whelming. As the beautifully landscaped William J. Gallagher Highway rises up to the central plateau of the island, it looks down over the Garber-Farina Golf Course which is flanked on one side by the rich forests of Walthamia, under the supervision of Lord High Forester, Rodney Lawrence, and bordered on the other side by the Rodney Clarke Beach and Amusement Center. As we climb upward, we pass a Lopez-Malone truck going over the Porter Bridge, which crosses the MacFarlane River. The bridge was constructed by the Morway, Landrigan, Viles, Lucas, Flynn Engineering Corporation and is dedicated to Robert Porter, Walthamia's leading physicist; the river is named for Walthamia's outstanding mathematician. Both of these men of science are presently members of the Madden-Meserve Technical Research Center founded in the honor and memory of Mary L. Hogan. We are suddenly aroused from our thoughts on these facts by the appearance of the magnificent government center directly ahead. Our attention is first arrested by the tremendous murals that were painted on the capitol building's western facade by Richard Veno.

"Good afternoon. Welcome to Walthamia!" exclaims Thomas Neville as we leave our limousine. "As assistant to the Emperor I will be your host for today, since his Highness is at the moment in conference with Miss Judith Glossa, President of the Walthamian Biochemical Society; then he must meet with Robert Morreale, Janet Pittari, Linda Ryan, Nancy Maher, Sally Shea, Helen Keefe, Marion Frechette, and Kathleen Toohil, all members of the Walthamia Teachers' Association. I don't know how I remember all those names and appointments. I guess it's because of Charlene Flynn, Beverly Moldoff, and Judy Malloy; they're all my secretaries, you know. Well, if you'll follow me, we can see the inspection of the capitol guard before we begin the tour."

At the front steps of the capitol building we see the honor guard resplendent in their uniforms of red and white. Captain Ronald Doucett reads the roll—P. Hersom, J. Daigle, R. Ahlman, A. Hall, R. Halleran, W. Demeo, R. Vanaria, R. Orris, R. LeBlanc. They all snap smartly to attention and then march off in perfect step to their respective posts. Then we return to our limousine for our tour of the island. Our first stop is the Caughlan Memorial Hospital where we are greeted by nurses Carol Rivers, Joanne Melvin, Linda Wyman, Barbara Buckley, Mary Carroll, Fayth Bishop, and Harriet Brownell. Then we are led into the operating room where doctors Crane, Brinn, and Hargreaves and their secretaries, Diana Jackson, Maxine Weiner, and Pierina Cianci, are huddled around the operating table.

"Scalpel," says Doctor Crane.

"Scissors," says Doctor Brinn.

After a whispered question we find that they are operating on Craig Johnston, Walthamia's leading commercial artist. From the hospital we proceed up the main street of metropolitan Walthamia. Our attention is particularly arrested by the huge Shute Department Store whose manager, Alan McCarthy, is world-renowned for his business administration techniques. The ultra-modern Lando-Babineau Garage, the Fries-Sheehan-Bari Bowling Center, the Alagna-Aucoin-Brandon Secretarial School, the Littlefield-Vanaria Aeronautical Engineering Corporation, and the David Wright Art Studios all catch our attention as we proceed down the main street. Especially notable are the buildings at either end of the mile-long street. On the west end is the Mona Wilson Church named in honor of Walthamia's dedicated missionary. On the other end is the twenty story Katz-Tribune Building, Walthamia's leading publishing house and home of the Tribune. It is there that we are headed to meet the busy editor-in-chief, Dana Katz.

PROPHECY

After a quick elevator ride, we find ourselves in the executive offices of the Walthamia Tribune. After passing the desks of Nancy DeMont, Marilyn Foster, Kathleen Grimes, Sandra LaFort, Carol Nelson, Joanne Mikula, and Janice Baumann—Miss Katz' secretaries—we arrive at the sanctum sanctorum of the editor, who greets us warmly and tells us that she has just returned from the Breault, Woodside, Walsh Beauty Salon and must soon be off to the House of MacClary, where a special fashion show is to be held by Power's graduate Judie Annunciata.

"Perhaps you could come," asks Miss Katz.

As much as we should like to go with her, we tell her that our schedule does not permit. According to Supreme Secretary Neville we must return to the government center shortly. So back we go to our limousine, and then we head once again for the government plaza after a short tour of the Delaney-Crowe Athletic Center with manager Albert Porter. Back at the capitol we are enthusiastically welcomed by Lord High Commissioner of Entertainment and Court Jester Neal Poole, who tells us about the big entertainment plans that have been made for the evening.

"Oh, there'll be a chorus from the Brock-Bisson-Rousseau Dance Academy. There'll be a dramatic scene by Linda LeBlanc. Stephen Gullotti and Pat Fedele will play their guitars, and Henry Powers will do his imitations of great singers of the past, and I'll do my act," Neal tells us.

The supreme Secretary then leads us into the capitol building reception room, where a great crowd of people are waiting to see the Emperor. Legal secretaries Christine Forrester and Nancy Sawyer are rushing about trying to take care of the many claims, complaints, and requests. Eileen Joyce and Peter Travaline of the Travaline-Joyce Public Relations Institute rush up to Secretary Neville spouting plans for a big promotional campaign for Walthamia's chief industry. The existence of this industry suddenly becomes evident to us as the Lord High Secretary of Public Engineering, Carl Fredrickson, comes stomping into the lobby staring at his naked wrist and exclaiming, "What time is it? Where is my watch? What time is it? A million clocks and I don't know what time it is!" A rustle of garments and the click of opening pocket watches fills the room as everyone present checks the time. However, more than one time is heard from the many answering voices.

"Four-fifteen. Four-twenty. Four-ten. Four-thirty. Four-seventeen. All different! A disgrace! What time is it? One whole island-nation dedicated to the making of time-pieces, and no two people have the same time. Where is the Lord High Time Keeper? Where is Sir Conrad Caldwell?"

"Here I am, Sir," says Sir Caldwell as he rushes in with his hundreds of watches rattling and ticking uproariously.

"Well! Well? What time is it?" demands Fredrickson.

"Er-ah-seven A.M. in Moscow. Ah . . . eleven-thirty P.M. in New York . . . let's see . . . 4:30 A.M. in London."

"Yes, yes, yes! Off with his head! What time is it here? What time is it? Guards! Off with his watch . . . his head . . . oh!" The secretary stalks off raging and shaking his head. "What I need is a transistorized watch."

Chuckling to ourselves, we proceed to the office of the Lord High Chancellor of Hospitality and Welcome, Joanna Cahill, who greets us warmly and leads us to our chambers, where we prepare for the festivities ahead. As we are getting ready, Hunting Masters Robert Allenberg and David Ramich return from their day in the wild forests of Walthamia, where they have shot a number of pheasants, deer, and other game for the evening's banquet. At last the hour comes. We are ushered ceremoniously into the main dining room. We are seated near the head of the table along with the Prime Minister, Council of Advisors, and the executives of the Walthamia Watch and Clock Corporation—Paul Doucette, Paul Yurkus, Judith Hardiman, William Doheny, Theresa LeBlanc, R. Callahan, Julieanne Curtis, Frances Cincotta, Gloria Gosselin, Theodore Prophet, and John Guerin. After a fabulous meal the entertainment begins in the Belliveau Memorial Theater, which was designed by Andrew Martocchia and built by the Fitzgerald, Davis, Bradley, Hargadon, and Knippel Company. We are very much impressed by the theatre and the recorded stereophonic music supplied by a system designed by the Kirley-Berry Electronics Corporation. The familiar Sicotte Publishing Company trademark program catches our attention for a moment just before a fanfare announces the arrival of the Emperor.

"His Royal Highness, Emperor Glenn the First of the most High Moulton Dynasty."

The audience rises as the royal company moves down the aisle to the royal box. In the train we see executive assistants, Joan DiVico, Claire O'Neil, Ronald Ferro, and June Mosca—each of whom carries a basketball or football (the Emperor is a great sportsman).

The music begins. The curtains swing back, and the star-studded spectacle begins. But too soon it is over, and we find ourselves back in our rooms. However, the next day we are rewarded by the magnificent tour of the rest of the island with our guide Lord High Forester, Rodney Lawrence. The views are magnificent, the scenery unbelievable; we find it hard to leave when the time comes. As our jet pushes the earth away behind it, we chat with the one Walthamian who is returning with us on his way to California—Gene Hamilton—and then we gaze back at the island which has been landscaped to resemble a huge clock face. The sunlight strikes the polished surfaces of the government center and plays back and forth as if on the facets of a diamond. The nose of our steel eagle points westward, and the tiny kingdom of Walthamia—a fairyland of past and present—sinks back into the waves like a dreamfish returning to the peaceful depths of the ocean.

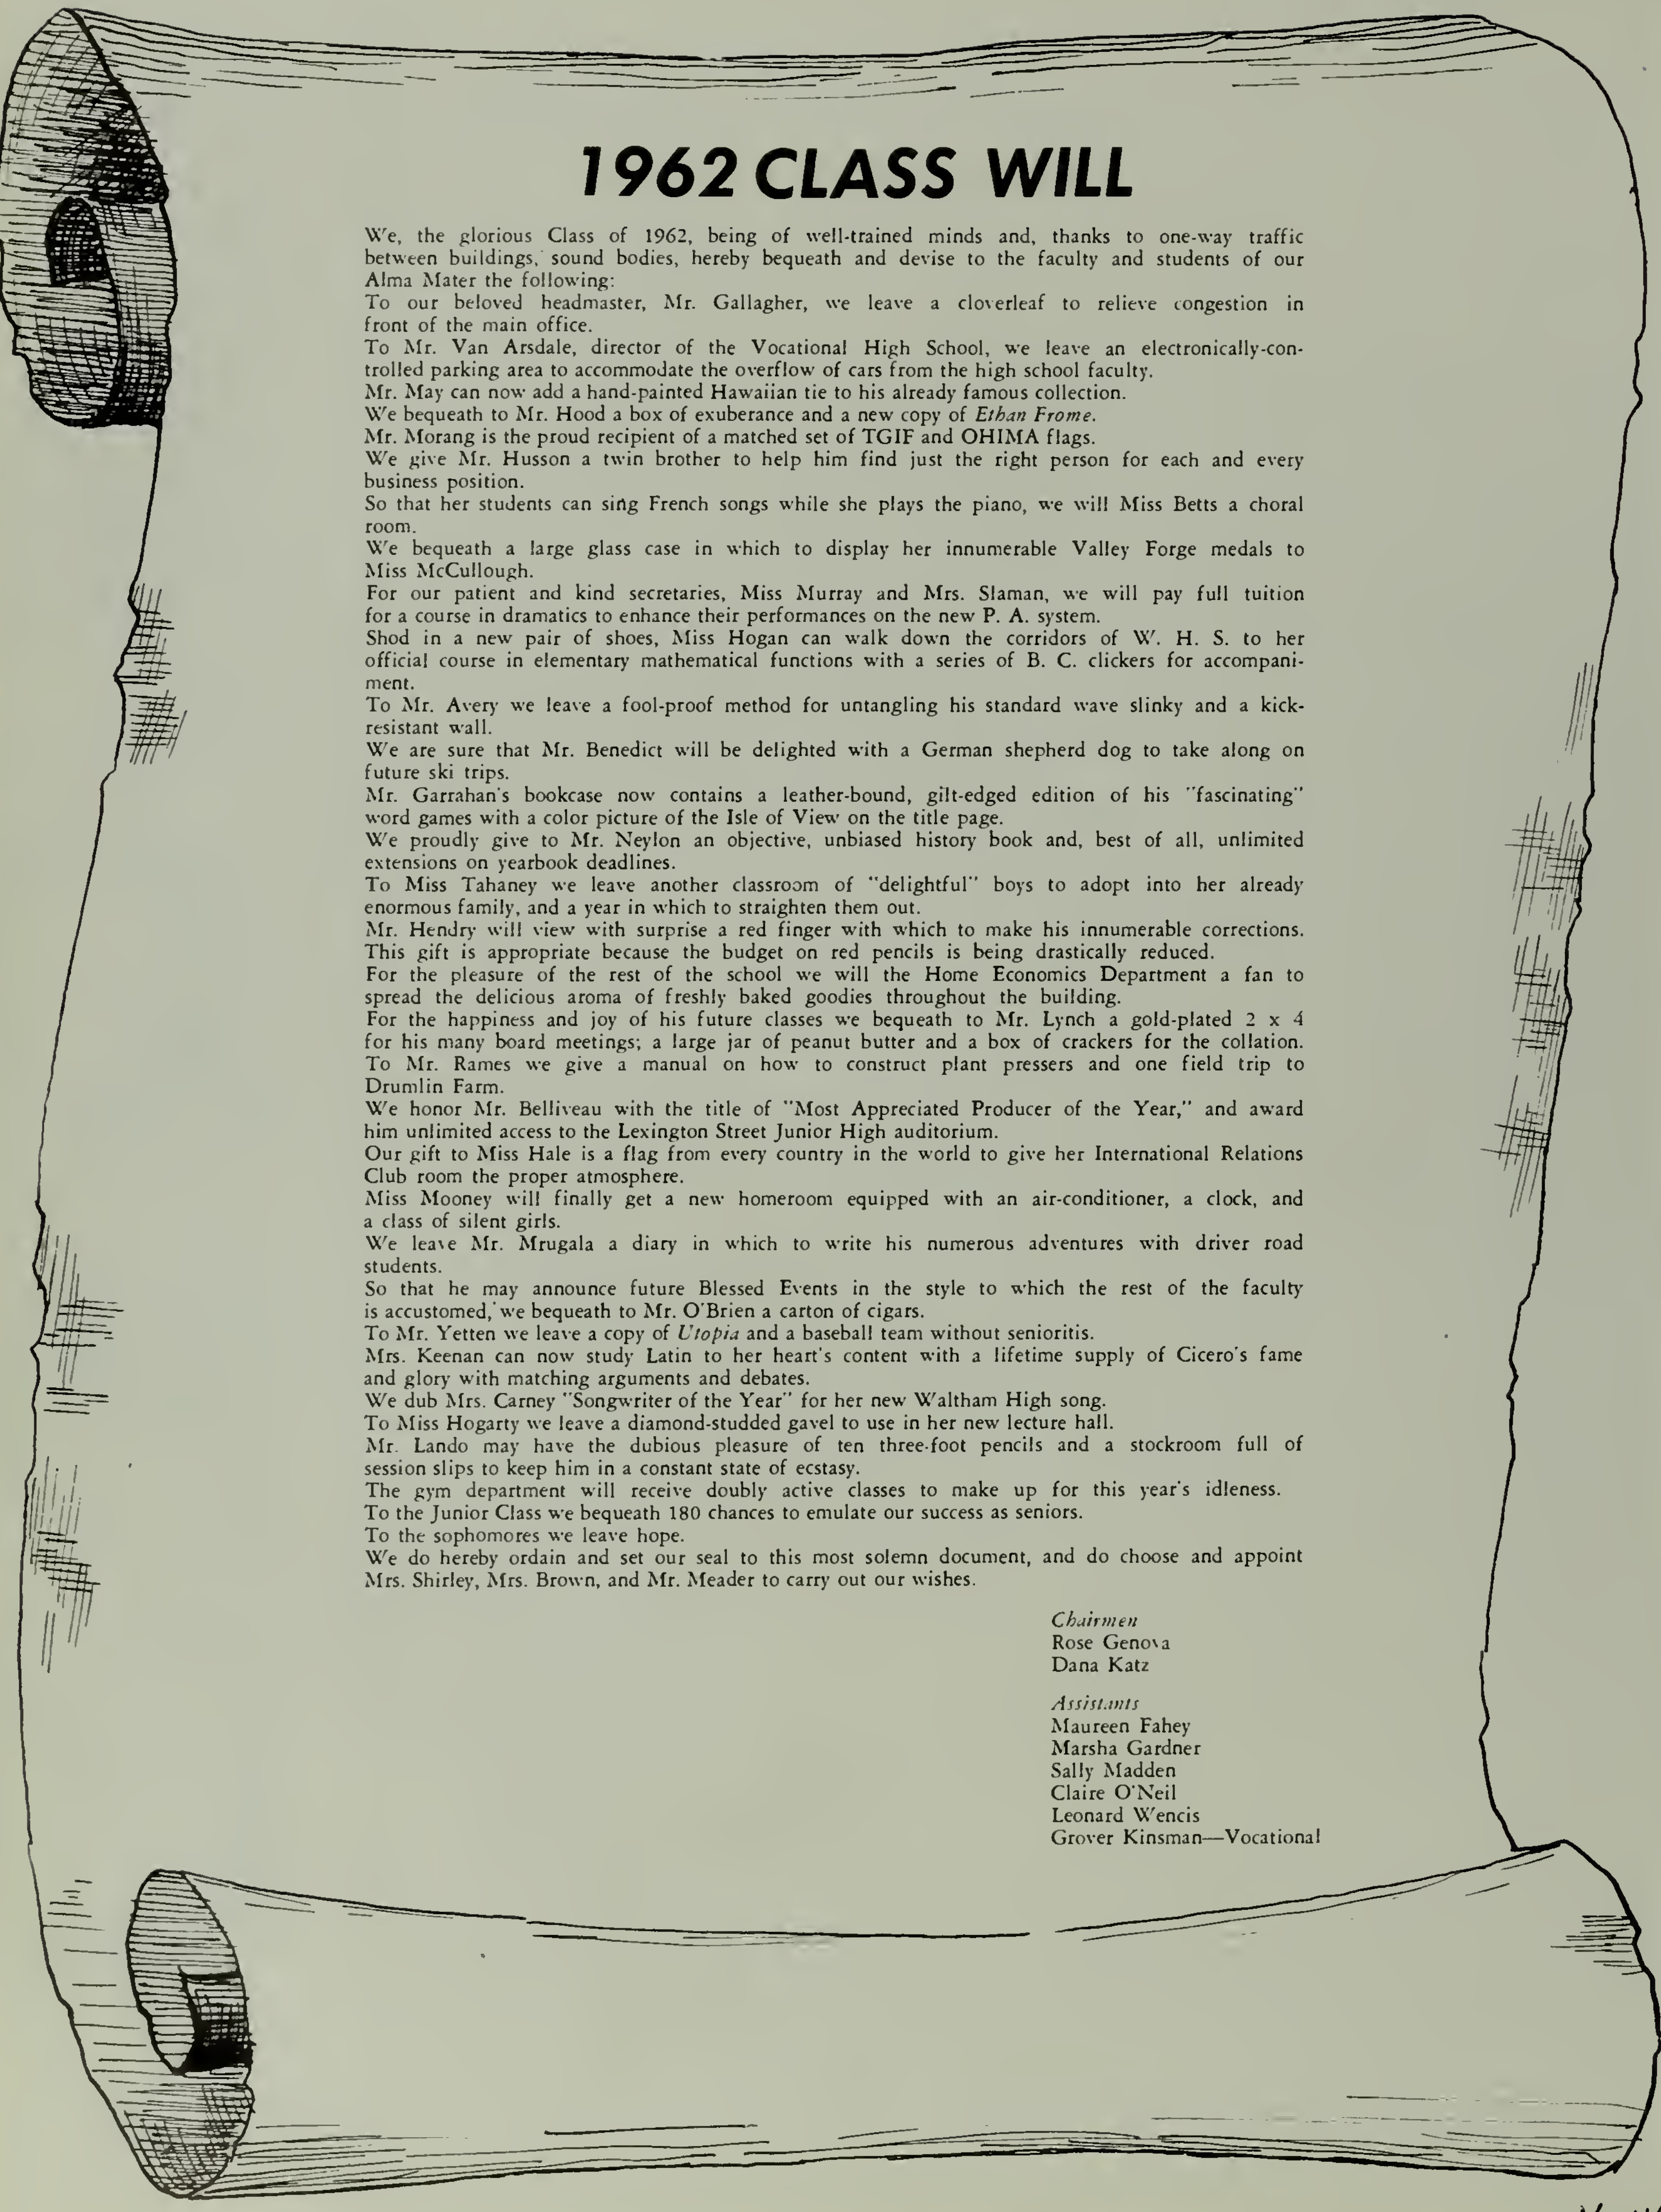
TRIBUNE OFFICES



1962 CLASS WILL

We, the glorious Class of 1962, being of well-trained minds and, thanks to one-way traffic between buildings, sound bodies, hereby bequeath and devise to the faculty and students of our Alma Mater the following:

To our beloved headmaster, Mr. Gallagher, we leave a cloverleaf to relieve congestion in front of the main office.

To Mr. Van Arsdale, director of the Vocational High School, we leave an electronically-controlled parking area to accommodate the overflow of cars from the high school faculty.

Mr. May can now add a hand-painted Hawaiian tie to his already famous collection.

We bequeath to Mr. Hood a box of exuberance and a new copy of Ethan Frome.

Mr. Morang is the proud recipient of a matched set of TGIF and OHIMA flags.

We give Mr. Husson a twin brother to help him find just the right person for each and every business position.

So that her students can sing French songs while she plays the piano, we will Miss Betts a choral room.

We bequeath a large glass case in which to display her innumerable Valley Forge medals to Miss McCullough.

For our patient and kind secretaries, Miss Murray and Mrs. Slaman, we will pay full tuition for a course in dramatics to enhance their performances on the new P. A. system.

Shod in a new pair of shoes, Miss Hogan can walk down the corridors of W. H. S. to her official course in elementary mathematical functions with a series of B. C. clickers for accompaniment.

To Mr. Avery we leave a fool-proof method for untangling his standard wave slinky and a kick-resistant wall.

We are sure that Mr. Benedict will be delighted with a German shepherd dog to take along on future ski trips.

Mr. Garrahan's bookcase now contains a leather-bound, gilt-edged edition of his "fascinating" word games with a color picture of the Isle of View on the title page.

We proudly give to Mr. Neylon an objective, unbiased history book and, best of all, unlimited extensions on yearbook deadlines.

To Miss Tahaney we leave another classroom of "delightful" boys to adopt into her already enormous family, and a year in which to straighten them out.

Mr. Hendry will view with surprise a red finger with which to make his innumerable corrections. This gift is appropriate because the budget on red pencils is being drastically reduced.

For the pleasure of the rest of the school we will the Home Economics Department a fan to spread the delicious aroma of freshly baked goodies throughout the building.

For the happiness and joy of his future classes we bequeath to Mr. Lynch a gold-plated 2 x 4 for his many board meetings; a large jar of peanut butter and a box of crackers for the collation.

To Mr. Rames we give a manual on how to construct plant pressers and one field trip to Drumlin Farm.

We honor Mr. Belliveau with the title of "Most Appreciated Producer of the Year," and award him unlimited access to the Lexington Street Junior High auditorium.

Our gift to Miss Hale is a flag from every country in the world to give her International Relations Club room the proper atmosphere.

Miss Mooney will finally get a new homeroom equipped with an air-conditioner, a clock, and a class of silent girls.

We leave Mr. Mrugala a diary in which to write his numerous adventures with driver road students.

So that he may announce future Blessed Events in the style to which the rest of the faculty is accustomed, we bequeath to Mr. O'Brien a carton of cigars.

To Mr. Yetten we leave a copy of Utopia and a baseball team without senioritis.

Mrs. Keenan can now study Latin to her heart's content with a lifetime supply of Cicero's fame and glory with matching arguments and debates.

We dub Mrs. Carney "Songwriter of the Year" for her new Waltham High song.

To Miss Hogarty we leave a diamond-studded gavel to use in her new lecture hall.

Mr. Lando may have the dubious pleasure of ten three-foot pencils and a stockroom full of session slips to keep him in a constant state of ecstasy.

The gym department will receive doubly active classes to make up for this year's idleness.

To the Junior Class we bequeath 180 chances to emulate our success as seniors.

To the sophomores we leave hope.

We do hereby ordain and set our seal to this most solemn document, and do choose and appoint Mrs. Shirley, Mrs. Brown, and Mr. Meader to carry out our wishes.

"So Proudly We Hail" will long be remembered by the Class of '62 as one of the brightest spots of our Senior Year. Under the expert direction of Tom Eastler, cast, committees, and staffs all worked hard and long in an effort to produce nothing less than a terrific show—which it was!

All profits of the show, of course, were put to the worthy cause of supporting our A.F.S. exchange program.

SENIOR PROM

On the evening of May 25, 1962, our memorable Senior Prom took place in the newly constructed and beautifully decorated gym.

From above, entering couples caught a lovely view of colorful gowns and decorations. The Prom theme was "Harbor Lights" and, complete with fishing nets and a lighthouse, the evening was a wonderful success.

The Senior Prom Committee is certainly to be congratulated for doing such a wonderful job; their efforts were much appreciated by the rest of the Class of '62.

Surely no one who was present for the 1962 Class Day exercises could have denied that this is an excellent motto for our exuberant class.

MR. MAYOR

GRADUATION DAY

Slowly and solemnly the Class of 1962 marched into the beautiful Ullman Amphitheatre of Brandeis University for the graduation exercises which would mark the beginning as well as the end of some of the most important years of our lives.

After the invocation was given by the Reverend Louis R. Beckwith, we took our seats and heard the address of welcome given by Class President, Bob Pantanella. The three honor speeches of the evening were delivered by Richard Meserve, Rose Genova, and John McDonald (also our class poet) and each emphasized different phases of our graduation theme: "Goals for Young Americans."

After the presentation of the Class Gifts by Sally Madden and Charles Berry, Mr. Gallagher introduced our honored guests and proceeded to announce the scholarship awards and prizes. Then, row by row, we filed across the stage to receive our diplomas.

Benediction was given by the Reverend Robert W. Baer C. S. P., Catholic Chaplain of Brandeis, to close the evening's ceremonies. Then with mixed emotions the Class of 1962 rose to sing our National Anthem and to give one more cheer for Waltham High. We then marched from the amphitheatre in the gathering dusk of that evening of June 4, 1962, with many memories and with many hopes for the future in our hearts.

"Le Cercle Francais," the first French club ever to exist at W.H.S., was originated in November of 1961, under the supervision of Madame Johnson. The club's main purpose is to stimulate student interest in conversational French. In order to fulfill this purpose the club members sang carols at the Christmas meeting, and during the month of March they presented a playlet, adapted by the members of the club from Ces Gens Qui Passent, in which all parts were rendered in French.

'Le Cercle Francais," although only in its infancy, is now one of our school's most active clubs; we all hope that it will continue to be as successful as it is now.

The Future Teachers of America Club was started just a little over a year ago, but it has already become one of the largest and most active clubs in Waltham High School. The purpose of the F.T.A. is to help students who are interested in a teaching career to become the best in their field. The club gives the members information on the different fields available, ideas on how to get into these fields, and advice to make their career a happy one. Meetings are held regularly and guest speakers are often invited to address the club.

The teacher-sponsor of the club is Miss Tahaney of the commercial department. It is her job to guide the club members to a better understanding of the principles and ideals of teaching as a career

Under the direction of its president, John Crane, the German Club or "Deutscher Verein" is one of the outstanding student organizations at W.H.S. Through festive presentations and such celebrations as the "Faschings Abend," a colorful carnival complete with costumes, the German Club is truly contributing greatly to the stimulation of interest in the German language and culture.

The school year 1961-1962 opened with a wonderful present to the newspaper staff—an English office, complete with tables, chairs, a closet, and a telephone. During Activity Period each Tuesday this new office is quickly converted to a hustling, bustling home of confusion. Somehow, with the help of Mr. Hood and Mrs. Shirley, who are the staff advisors, the column is put together and is typed in the nick of time. Then with the help of the "runners," "This Week at Waltham High" is published every Thursday evening in the News-Tribune.

Pep Squad

SOPHOMORES

Our football pep squad was established to promote more school enthusiasm at the rallies and the games. The girls build up the spirits of the boys with their cheers of joy and approval. The pep squad members certainly display a zest for victory. Whether our boys win or lose, we are always proud to be cheering them on.

The Waltham High School football team was fortunate in enjoying a successful season under second-year coach John Krol. Despite being plagued by injuries, our Crimson gridsters compiled a won-lost-tied record of 4-4-1. The Waltham High School basketball team was faced with numerous challenges and disadvantages this year. Lack of height and depth proved to be a factor in our court men's many losses.

However, our team did not lack spirit, which is an important cog in any athletic machine. This desire to win made possible the stunning upset win over Champion Rindge Tech by Coach Quinn's boys.

This year's Crimson Mermen were plagued with lack of depth and experience. Despite these odds the natators wound up with a successful season, with a won-lost record of 4-3. Waltham High had finalists in both the State and New England Swim Meets.

Underclassmen on this team gained experience and ability from veteran senior swimmers Al Foran, Paul O'Mara, Paul Ferro, and Tom Neville.

The Waltham High School Rifle Team has been noted for its excellence in the past, and this year proved to be no exception. In addition to placing second in the Middlesex Scholastic Rifle League, several records in competitive rifling were set. The Crimson Riflemen compiled 7,133 points throughout the season, topping 1st place Malden, which had 6,766.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

MR. THOMAS F. NEYLON, JR.

It is nearing twilight, and, as the sun sinks slowly into the western horizon, we find our tireless advisor, Mr. Thomas Neylon, preparing for another night of work on the 1962 Mirror. For his advice, understanding, and often-tried patience, we, the staff of the 1962 Mirror, wish to thank Mr. Neylon and to say that we will never forget him or the constant help and time he has given to us to make ours the best Mirror ever.

For the help of his experienced eye we owe many thanks to our art director, Mr. Paul D. Shea. The wonderful sketches which fill our Mirror's pages are the result of much time and advice given by Mr. Shea as well as work on the part of our art staff. So to you, Mr. Shea, go our sincere thanks for helping to make our Mirror so pleasant to look at.

MR. PAUL D. SHEA

For their many courtesies the Mirror staff also wishes to thank:

Mr. William Gallagher and Mr. Lloyd Van Arsdale for their understanding and help;

Mrs. Thomas Neylon for her help in proofreading;

Russo Studio, the News Tribune, O'Neill Studio, and Phipps Studio for photographic assistance.

Tomorrow's electronics is Raytheon's business today!

Exciting new developments in electronics are everyday business at Raytheon. Examples: Radarange microwave ovens that cook a complete meal in two to five minutes; lasers . . . key to tomorrow's space communications; weather radar to warn of approaching storms. To young men and women planning a career, electronics offers many rewarding opportunities. Today, more than 4000 companies make up the electronics industry. Of these, Raytheon is one of the world's largest manufacturers specializing in electronic equipment.

JOB
OPENS UP
A BIG FUTURE
FOR ANY GIRL

When you graduate it's wonderful to have a telephone job waiting for you. You'll love the friendly new people you meet. And you'll like the excellent salary, the regular increases, the opportunities for advancement and the many additional benefits that make working for the Telephone Company so attractive to so many young people.

Telephone jobs are important ones. We have our own training program which you can enter without any previous job experience.

Why not come and see our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate. Ask the Guidance Counselor at your school to tell you when and where to apply.

INFORMATION
TECHNOLOGY 3500 YEARS

Photo: University of Pennsylvania Museum

These cuneiform characters are taken from part of the world's oldest known pharmacopoeia, a fired-clay tablet from ancient Sumer. The tablet represents one of the earliest methods of storing technical information. From papyrus to paper, from moveable type to photography and computers, the ability to store and retrieve information has paced man's progress.

Today man's growing volume of information is outstripping the available methods of storing and retrieving it. New methods are needed, and are being sought and found by the scientists and engineers working at Itek Laboratories.

Research programs are being carried out to produce sophisticated systems which will automatically collect, store, process, communicate and display all kinds of information instantaneously. Our Optical Physics Section, working from the Diffraction theory and Fourier theory approaches, is attacking the problem of optical image formation. In the area of the optical-photographic image recording process, we are actively pursuing experimental work in image assessment, in terms of limiting signal to noise ratios. In addition, studies are being conducted toward image enhancement, specially using the coherent diffraction plane.

Our Optical Engineering group is working in microalignment and micromeasurement to support an ultra precision optical fabrication capability, in addition to equipment engineering for automatic projection presentation of reconnaissance/intelligence material.
